Energy & Climate Change

B&D Consulting is at the cutting edge of the law and public policy debate as the energy sector in America transforms. Our team has an in-depth understanding of climate change policy, federal tax incentives, federal funding opportunities, renewable energies and clean technologies — and is well-positioned to help your organization take advantage of, or protect against, ever-changing policy and regulatory initiatives. With an array of bi-partisan Executive Branch and Capitol Hill veterans on our team, B&D Consulting is uniquely positioned to assist our clients as follows:

- Developing and executing federal and state government relations strategies to help clients realize their public policy goals on climate change and tax law
- Providing crucial insights into Congressional and Executive Branch laws, regulations and initiatives in the energy and environmental sectors
- Helping clients assess the implications of evolving greenhouse gas mitigation policies on the operations of their business or enterprise, both domestically and internationally
- Understanding the complex stakeholder positions ranging from public policy groups to energy companies, and from energy users to industry associations and universities
