Expansion and relocation decisions demand careful analysis. The local tax and regulatory climate, work force, infrastructure, incentives and innovation are all part of the growth equation.

That's where Indy Partnership comes in. We are the authoritative source for data and resources on the 10-county Indianapolis region, representing its local economic development organizations to provide a coordinated, seamless response to companies seeking a new or expanded location.

Indy Partnership's team of professionals is dedicated to providing the answers you need at the speed of business. Our Research Department stands ready with detailed information on sites and buildings in the Indianapolis region, as well as the latest data on workforce availability, business climate, and regional economic trends — from our low cost of doing business to the high productivity of our workers.

Our award winning Web site (www.indypartnership.com) provides user-friendly tools for decision makers, including user-defined research. Indy InSite, our GIS mapping and data center, provides access to a wealth of information in multiple, downloadable formats. You can download full data sets in Excel spreadsheets or use our custom search feature to find and map properties, demographic data and more. You'll find multiple fact sheets for the Indianapolis region as a whole and for each of the 10 counties we serve.

Another advantage of working with Indy Partnership is direct access to key industry players in the region's core economic clusters. As part of the Central Indiana Corporate Partnership, we work daily with subject matter experts at BioCrossroads for the life sciences;

TechPoint for information technology, Conexus Indiana for advanced manufacturing and logistics and Energy Systems Network for clean-tech energy. With this expertise literally down the hall, we can bring the right people and information to the table to help guide companies through the site selection process.

Indy Partnership is a trusted advisor to businesses looking for the best location to compete. Since 2001, we have worked with our state and local partners to attract or retain more than 73,000 jobs and spark billions in new capital investment in the region. Every day, this team of dedicated professionals works to strengthen the economic vitality of our communities and the success of the businesses that call our region home.●
